Student Center for the Public Trust

About the StudentCPT

The Student Center for the Public Trust (StudentCPT) is a national network of college students who demonstrate a commitment to ethical leadership. Chapters are hosted on college campuses across the country, which provide students with opportunities to participate in training sessions, conferences, community service and business ethics competitions.

StudentCPT chapters are supported by the NASBA Center for the Public Trust (CPT), which has staff and resources available to help chapters maximize their effectiveness. The CPT staff works to create opportunities for students to network with the business community and learn how to market themselves in the job market after graduation.

Mission Statement

To develop, empower and promote ethical leaders.

Vision Statement

To be the largest network of ethical leaders on college campuses.

Student Code of Ethics

Below are the values that student members are expected to uphold.

I. Ethical Leadership

Student members set the standard for ethical leadership, ethical conduct and model ethical behavior. Student members act ethically in every personal and professional interaction.

II. Accountability

Student members accept responsibility and accountability for their individual decisions, actions and attitudes. Student members engage in activities that enhance the credibility and value of the StudentCPT and themselves.

III. Integrity

Student members think and act with honesty and integrity, and apply high standards of ethical behavior to their daily activities.

IV. Trust

Student members maintain a high level of trust with all others and build trust through fairness, honesty, accountability, integrity and transparency.

NASBA Center For The Public Trust (CPT)

About the CPT

In 2005, the accounting profession received a large amount of negative publicity, due to the unethical behavior of a small fraction of accounting professionals.

As a result, NASBA established the Center for the Public Trust (CPT) to focus on the great majority of businesses, corporations and individuals who work and act in an ethical manner. CPT promotes ethical leadership, integrity, accountability and trust as guiding principles.

Since negative events typically generate the most media attention, CPT chose the opposite approach – to focus attention and energy on organizations and individuals who employ best practices and do the right thing.

Leading Your Student Chapter

Establishing Your Chapter

Securing a Commitment from Faculty/Administration

The CPT will work with your professors and administrators to secure their time, staff and financial commitment to establishing a chapter on your campus.

Developing and Submitting Your Charter

After securing a commitment from your school's students, faculty and administration, CPT staff will check your school's student organization guidelines to ensure all requirements are met. If your chapter needs assistance customizing your charter, CPT staff are available to help.

Chapter Accounts

CPT will create an account for each chapter, which will be used to pay for chapter events, including food, promotional materials, and other necessary expenses to support the chapter (please keep receipts for all purchases in order to be reimbursed). This account will be managed by CPT staff, and students and advisors will be reimbursed for approved expenses or have the CPT National Office pay for expenses, which will be deducted from your chapter account. Please contact CPT staff to discuss any specific questions you may have about the reimbursement process or your account balance. All reimbursements must be pre-approved by CPT staff prior to chapter events.

Fundraising Guidelines

Please contact CPT staff if you need any help selecting a fundraiser. All fundraisers must be pre-approved by CPT staff.

- All fundraising initiatives must first be approved by CPT National Office.
- If you are raising funds for StudentCPT activities, you MUST include our full legal name on any marketing materials or receipts: Example- Vanderbilt StudentCPT, a chapter of the NASBA Center for the Public Trust.
- If you are raising funds for a nonprofit organization, include the name of the nonprofit that will be benefitting from the fundraising activity.
- Fundraisers on behalf of other nonprofit organizations must not promote any political parties or political advocacy organizations.
- Practice good fundraising ethics.

Starting the School Year

Student chapters should notify CPT staff immediately if there is a change in advisors. All chapters are required to submit an End of the Semester Report, Activity Reports and Executive Council Roster to maintain active status. These documents notify the CPT National Office of important contact information such as advisor address and phone number, and current chapter officers. Up-to-date information is vital to maintaining communication between the CPT National Office and the StudentCPT chapters.

Below is an outline of the annual process student chapters should follow at the start of the academic year.

1. Elect officers (first year chapters only) and submit an Executive Council Roster to the CPT National Office.
2. Review chapter Bylaws.
3. Review mission statement and goals.
4. Establish a regular program calendar and send your program calendar to the CPT National Office.
5. Develop a recruiting program.
6. Plan chapter activities and delegate responsibilities to specific officers, directors or committees.
7. Plan community service activity.
8. Educate faculty/staff members on value of the StudentCPT.
9. Publicize and promote the StudentCPT and chapter activities.
10. Hold chapter social activities to build cohesiveness and chapter spirit.

Student Chapter Objectives

- Provide programs that help students develop ethical business practices and engage in ethical leadership.
- Provide meaningful meetings and activities to help students better understand the business and professional world.
- Be a resource for campus and community projects in the way of ethical business practices and ethical leadership.
- Establish contacts with professionals, business executives and managers.
- Promote local awareness of the StudentCPT chapter, its activities and members.

Support for Your Chapter

The CPT National Office has staff available to answer questions, discuss ideas and provide support for student chapter planning and activities. The CPT staff is also available to travel and speak at student conferences and chapter meetings. CPT staff can be reached by email at info@thecpt.org.

In addition to submitting the Executive Council Roster at the start of the school year, each student chapter must submit an End of the Semester Report and Activity Reports by the end of each academic semester. To view a complete list of forms and templates, visit <http://www.studentcpt.org/student-resources/>.

What the CPT National Office Expects from StudentCPT Advisors

Each chapter must have a designated chapter advisor. The chapter advisor is most often a faculty member at the college or university where the chapter is located. However, college or university staff members outside of academics are also eligible to serve.

The chapter advisor serves as the point of contact for the chapter and receives all chapter mailings. One of the advisor's primary roles is to maintain the history and continuity of the chapter. Possessing a general interest in and enthusiasm for the students' efforts and activities are important contributions that the advisor makes throughout the year. The chapter advisor is also expected to attend the planned activities. A chapter may have co-advisors; however, one person should be the primary contact.

It is very important for advisors to maintain regular contact with chapter officers. Below is a list of expectations to help explain the role of chapter advisors:

- Primary contact to the CPT National Office.
- Liaison between the CPT National Office and the student officers.
- Liaison between the CPT National Office and school administration.
- Communicates monthly with CPT staff and chapter officers regarding chapter activities.
- Recruit and develop student leaders.
- Provide guidance to student leaders on the formation and implementation of the chapter's goals, activities and adherence to standards and Bylaws approved by the CPT National Office.
- Ensure the chapter membership understands the role of the CPT National Office.
- Offer assistance booking rooms on campus for chapter meetings.
- Oversee and attend activities and programs.
- Provide for the succession of student officers.

Student chapters may, upon occasion, find their chapter advisor unsatisfactory. For example, the chapter advisor may be too deeply involved with other commitments to give adequate time and effort to their student chapter. In such case, a representative of the student chapter (generally the president or vice president) should discuss the situation with the chapter advisor and try to resolve the situation.

If a solution is not reached, the officer should speak to a member of the CPT staff about the student chapter's concern. Various alternatives, such as bringing in a chapter co-advisor (other professor or school administrator), can then be considered to improve the situation.

If you have any questions or concerns about chapter, advisor or National Office expectations, please contact the CPT National Office at: info@thecpt.org or Student Programs Manager, Ashley Metivier, 615-312-3841.

Chapter Activities

Chapters are expected to conduct multiple activities throughout the year. These activities should be designed to support and promote the principles of ethical leadership. Below is a list of common chapter activities:

Common chapter activities include:

- Chapter Meetings
- Community Service Events
- Ethics in Action Video Competition
- Fundraising Initiatives
- Campus Being a Difference Awards
- Officer Elections
- Member/Officer Induction Ceremony
- Student Leadership Conference
- Recruitment Events

Chapter Officer Elections

Each chapter should elect officers once per year. Although new chapters may elect officers during the fall semester, we encourage existing chapters to conduct elections during the spring semester. Chapters should also allow at least one month of transition time after the election, so current officers can help teach incoming officers more about their roles and responsibilities.

Overview of Executive Council Responsibilities

The quality of leadership provided by the officers and Executive Council significantly influences the level of involvement and participation of both chapter members and other interested individuals in planned chapter activities. The officers' understanding of the importance of their roles in setting the direction of the student chapter and seeing to its management will be reflected in the overall success and continuity of the chapter.

The officers of a student chapter typically consist of a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer. Other positions may be necessary depending on the needs of the chapter as well as the availability of students for those roles. The officers also serve as members of the chapter's Executive Council.

Officer responsibilities include:

- Act as the primary liaison between the chapter advisor(s), the CPT National Office, campus student organization oversight function (where necessary) and the student members.
- In conjunction with the chapter advisor and national programs staff, assist in developing activities.
- Attend events, assist in promoting events, promote participation, ensure attendance rosters are maintained, collect dues and necessary information for the CPT National Office.
- Recruit members.
- Train newly elected officers.
- Respond to emails from the CPT National Office within one to two business days

Using Social Media to Promote Your Chapter

In today's world, social media can be a powerful tool to help promote your StudentCPT chapter. Social media groups can be successful in recruiting new members, as well as communicating news and events with active members. StudentCPT chapters are most effective using social media to promote a chapter when creating groups within the various social media platforms. This allows active and potential chapter members to engage in conversation about the StudentCPT and its activities.

When using social media to promote your chapter, please adhere to the following guidelines:

- Create an open "group" for active and potential members to join. Do not create pages or accounts that appear to be owned or managed by StudentCPT or the NASBA Center for the Public Trust.
- When creating a group, abide by the StudentCPT Graphics Standards and Use policy (see next section) when selecting icons, thumbnails and cover images. Take special care to:
 - Include the "Student Center for the Public Trust" name or the "StudentCPT" acronym in a manner which indicates their chapter affiliation.
 - Use the "Student Center for the Public Trust" name, "StudentCPT" acronym and StudentCPT logo solely to indicate that they are a chapter of StudentCPT.

(see social media guidelines on page 17)

StudentCPT Graphic Standards and Use

To help the CPT and StudentCPT achieve a consistent image, a cohesive branding system has been developed and is nationally known.

These graphic standards spell out how to correctly use StudentCPT on all forms of print and electronic communication. Every StudentCPT chapter and affiliate should abide by the standards outlined here. By following them, we reinforce the reputation of the CPT and StudentCPT as a progressive and cohesive organization.

Use Graphics and Logos

Student chapters are licensed by their annual charter to use StudentCPT graphics, logos and images on goods and in association with quality services.

StudentCPT chapter use of graphics, logos and images on promotional materials (print and online) to illustrate the association between the chapter and CPT is approved only if used in accordance with these guidelines. By using graphics, logos and images under this license, you agree to cease your use upon request by CPT.

The CPT allows student chapters under their annual charter to use by license the StudentCPT name, acronym and logo, if certain guidelines are followed.

Guidelines

- Include the “Student Center for the Public Trust” name or the “StudentCPT” acronym in a manner which indicates their chapter affiliation.
- Use the “Student Center for the Public Trust” name, “StudentCPT” acronym and StudentCPT logo solely to indicate that they are a chapter of StudentCPT.
- Chapters may not use the “Student Center for the Public Trust” name, “StudentCPT” acronym or StudentCPT logo in an independent manner.

In addition, chapters are required to prominently display the StudentCPT logo to indicate their affiliation on all chapter communication pieces, including social media websites. Chapters may not register or trademark any of the StudentCPT graphics, logos or images.

Reaching Out to StudentCPT Alumni

Some of the best resources you have in building your chapter are right in your backyard. Increasing alumni engagement not only boosts the morale of your chapter, but uniquely provides an opportunity for your chapter to grow in quality.

- Seeking Advice

Connecting with former StudentCPT members not only helps build the bridge between current and past StudentCPT members, but allows them to share knowledge on what they have found to be the chapter's best practices.

- Network of Speakers

Additionally, this enables your chapter to build a speaker roster of local contacts who have experienced the StudentCPT chapter first hand.

- Social Engagement

Current StudentCPT members should open their chapter social events to past alumni StudentCPT members to encourage networking and relationship building.

Chapter Fundraising

Fundraising is a great way to raise money for your chapter while making an impact on your local community and campus. The CPT National Office has various fundraising initiatives that can be implemented within your chapter. If you need help selecting a fundraiser, officers should contact CPT staff at info@thecpt.org to discuss the most suitable fundraising initiative for your university's culture. Please follow all fundraising guidelines as outlined on page six.

All fundraising initiatives must first be approved by CPT National Office.

How to Book a Speaker

One of the most effective ways to reach students on your campus is to book dynamic speakers for your StudentCPT meetings. The CPT National Office has a list of dynamic speakers that would love to speak to your chapter. It is also a good practice to build a resume' of local speakers in your area. This will save your chapter money on speaker travel expenses and help establish your chapter's community presence.

To book a speaker, simply contact the CPT National Office to discuss your preferred topic and potential speaker. Please try to book your speaker at least four (4) weeks in advance so the CPT National Office and speakers can make their necessary arrangements.

Ethical Leadership Certification Program

Certification Program Overview

Regarded as the first of its kind, the program is designed to creatively teach ethical leadership to students on college campuses across the country.

This program brings real-world ethical dilemmas to life with six challenging and engaging training modules. These modules utilize multiple learning methods, including interactive polls, videos and discussion questions, which allow you to share your thoughts and opinions. Each module is broken down into four or five sections, which each last about 15 minutes. To earn your certification in ethical leadership, simply complete each of the six modules and a final exam.

Why Get Certified

Earning a certificate in ethical leadership will help you:

- Separate yourself from the crowd in the internship/job market, by demonstrating your commitment to ethics
- Develop skills to help you be a more effective ethical leader and decision maker
- Gain the ability to recognize potential ethical pitfalls early in your career
- Share your ethical commitment with your peers after receiving your certificate

Campus Being a Difference Awards

Each year, chapters around the country are encouraged to nominate a faculty member and student from their respective campuses for the Campus Being a Difference Awards.

These winners positively impact their school and communities by displaying strong, ethical leadership.

Winner Criteria

- Is either a student currently enrolled in classes on campus, or holds any faculty position on campus
- Has shown exemplary conduct with students, faculty and the community
- Has taken the lead or provided significant support to ethical practices or programs on campus
- Exhibits personal values and actions that demonstrate integrity and ethics
- Has faced a recent challenge and overcome it with integrity, or taken other recent steps to show commitment to ethics
- Has taken the lead or supported efforts emphasizing strong ethics and leadership development

Once the chapter has selected winners, information should be submitted to the CPT National Office. The CPT National Office will ship a framed certificate for the student and faculty winners. Please allow 3 weeks for production and shipping.

Ethics in Action Video Competition

Students are encouraged to submit short films or commercials that are thought provoking or showcase a solution that would be best appropriate in an ethical situation. The Ethics in Action Video Competition opens each September and concludes in March.

A panel of judges review the video submissions based on the following criteria.

- Originality: Videos should use original content, not excerpts from existing shows, songs, movies, etc.
- Clarity: Video and audio should be easy to see and hear.
- Relevance: Video addresses an ethical dilemma that is relevant to young business professionals
- Critical Thinking: Videos should display complex ethical dilemmas that require viewers to use critical thinking skills to determine the best solutions. This is in contrast to videos that display ethical issues that have clear right or wrong solutions.

Peers, family members and friends also have the opportunity to vote for their favorite videos during the Viewer's Choice voting period. Check out studentcpt.org for additional information.

Non-StudentCPT members are welcome to participate.

StudentCPT Leadership Conference

Each summer, the NASBA Center for the Public Trust hosts the StudentCPT Leadership Conference. Leaders from each chapter join CPT staff for 2 ½ days full of leadership development, character development, team building and chapter training. One student from each StudentCPT chapter is awarded a full scholarship to attend the conference. Additional leaders may attend depending on space and availability. Please confirm details with your chapter account representative or visit studentcpt.org.

Below are some suggestions to consider when planning your chartering ceremony.

- Include a brief history of how and why the chapter got started.
- Invite prospective members, spouses, friends and college or university officials (deans, department chair and president).
- Publicity should be done through press releases prepared for local media, including campus and community newspapers, radio stations and television stations.
- A formal installation of the new officers is appropriate as part of the chartering ceremony.
